The objective of my final year project is to study the existing system and compare the system for improvement purposes, design a system for homestay owners and service providers for cleaning purposes and lastly to develop a mobile-based application that connecting the homestay owners and service providers.

My involvement in extra-curricular activities at the university has strengthen my interpersonal skills, which gave me insight into how I can work with all kinds of people. I have developed confidence and leadership qualities through my participation in the Computer Science Club (COMTECH) as an exco and other activities at my university.
